Short Bio After years of code battle in the Israel Defense Forces and the startup world (my last venture was selected for the Microsoft Ventures Accelerator), I'm seeking a new technical/product role at one of America's emerging startups. I'm a musician as well as a tech-geek; to me, both represent creation as art.

Current Positions

Co-Founder & CEO of Vedit.fm, Tel Aviv, Israel

September 2011 – Current

Vedit is a platform for the recreation of events, using simple user-generated videos and the power of crowdsourced content. Among the basic features we offered were audio-based video synchronization, multi angle video player, smooth cuts and smart automatic audio/video directing.

Led operations, fund raising and product development. In addition, I developed the video editor, backend platform and iOS mobile application.

In 2012, Vedit was chosen out of 200 companies to take part in the first batch of the highly selective Microsoft Ventures Accelerator program. Vedit was also chosen to take part in other programs such as The Junction and Young & Rubicam Spark Plug program. After being featured in TechCrunch, TheNextWeb Vedit collaborated with artists around the world in groundbreaking projects.
